FOR THE ARTS, HUMANITIES, RECREATION, EDUCATION AND ECOLOGY.

This monthly calendar supported in part by a grant from the San Francisco Foundation.

PRESENCE OF THE PAST LECTURE SERIES

The Venice Biennale exhibition at Pier 2 now through July 29 not only brings the first North American showing of the "Presence of the Past," but is also offering a series of Wednesday night lectures to be held at the Palace of Fine Arts Theater at 8pm.

The series begins on June 3 with Ricardo Bofill, Director of the Taller of Arquitectura in Barcelona, Spain. On June 9, there will be a panel discussion with local architects featured in the exhibition. Included in the panel are Andrew Batey, Marc Goldstein, Mark Mack, Thomas Gordon Smith, Daniel Solomon and Willina Turnbull. Michael Graves, an acknowledged leader of the new architectural sensibility, will deliver a lecture on June 23, tentatively titled "Representations." Finishing out the series on June 30 will be a presentation by Kalvin Platt, President of the SWA Group Inc., a landscape, architectural, planning and urban design firm with offices throughout the country.

Tickets will be available on a first-come, first-served basis at the door (3301 Lyon Street at Marina Blvd.) one hour before the lectures. They can also be purchased at the entrance to the exhibit at Pier 2 during exhibit hours, 10am-6pm, Tuesday through Sunday. Ticket prices are $7.00 for the general public and $6.00 for AIA members. For more information, call 673-4722.

FRIENDS BENEFITS

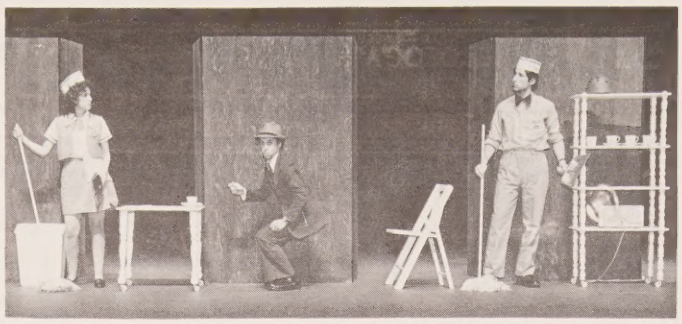
Dear Friends,

We appreciate your support of our effort to develop Fort Mason Center into a quality cultural, educational and recreational center. We hope you will continue to support our effort to convert the warehouses and piers into classrooms, theatres, galleries and activity spaces.

This month marks the beginning of our new membership program. We will no longer be offering a $5. subscription for our Calendar. The Calendar is available, free of charge, in all the buildings at Fort Mason Center. It is also published in "City Arts" Magazine and KPFA Folio. "City Arts" is distributed throughout the City in a number of locations.

We thank our current Friends and promise that we won't forget you in developing our new membership program. Those of you with a current subscription can count on receiving the Calendar for your entire subscription year.

Next month the Calendar will contain the details of our new Friends program including a list of benefits. Of course, the most important benefit will remain the same, the satisfaction of knowing that you have aided the growth and development of your national urban park. And Friends. . . Don't forget that you are entitled to a $1. discount on the admission price for the current exhibit in Pier 2, "The Presence of the Past." The show is open Tuesday through Sunday, from 10am to 6pm, from now until July 29.



6/23–25 People's Theater Festival presents "Mime is No Object: The Reproduction of the Working Day."

5th ANNUAL PEOPLE'S THEATER FESTIVAL

"Wake Up and Act" is the theme of the fifth annual People's Theater Festival which will be held from June 22 to June 27 at Fort Mason Center, The People's Theater, the Intersection and the Julian Theatre.

This year there will be four national companies making their San Francisco debut at the Festival. The United Mime Workers from Champaign, Illinois, will present Mime is No Object: The Reproduction of the Working Day at the People's Theater June 23 to June 25 at 8pm. The New York Labor Theater will perform their piece, Yours for the Revolution, Jack London, on June 26 and 27, also at the People's Theater. The Free Southern Theater from New Orleans and Roadside Theater from Whitesburg, Kentucky will be featured at the Julian and Intersection.

A FREE day of performances and workshops will be held from 12 to 6pm on Saturday, June 26, at Fort Mason Center, Buildings B and C. Groups participating will include the Dell-Arte Players Company from Blue Lake, Provisional Theater from Los Angeles, and San Francisco's own Asian American Theater Company, Teatro Latino, Theatre Unlimited, and many more. This is an excellent opportunity to view the exciting work done by local troupes all in one afternoon. There will also be a National Brainstorming Session on Cultural Democracy, led by Arlene Goldbard and Don Adams, co-directors of the Neighborhood Arts Program National Organizing Committee.

On Friday, June 25, there will be a performance parade starting in North Beach to which everyone is invited.

A FORT MASON SUMMER VACATION

Summertime is an exciting time for children and families at Fort Mason Center. With school out and that vast expanse of free time called summer vacation stretching out before you, why not check out some of the activities at the Fort and fill up those days with fun and excitement? Here are some suggestions Fort Mason Center has to offer.

AMATA—The Academy of Media and Theatre Arts—is offering two intensive summer sessions for the young aspiring actor/actress in Theatre and Media Arts. Interested students, between the ages of 8 and 18, will have the opportunity to work in a hands-on situation with video equipment, or learn about radio production inside the studios at Western Public Radio, also located at Fort Mason Center. Other classes include Creative Dramatics, Musical Theatre, Basic Acting Techniques and Scene Studies and Audition Techniques and are held at Fort Mason Center and in Berkeley. AMATA will also present a student production at the end of the summer and interested students may audition for a part. The summer sessions are June 21-July 24 and July 26-Aug. 28 and applications are still being accepted for both sessions. For more information call 776-4720.

The San Francisco Chapter of the Oceanic Society invites you to celebrate this summer with Sea Camp. If you are between the ages of 8 and 12 and are fascinated with the ocean and feel the lure of the sea, sign up for a two week session with Sea Camp and learn about ocean life, sailing vessels, marine natural history and human interaction with the sea. Camp begins each morning at Fort Mason Center from 9:30-5:00, M-F. For more information call 441-5970.

For the very young artist, classes at the SF Children's Art Center are offered at convenient times for both pre-school and school-age children, 2-14. Summer classes for children 4-14 are 2½ hours long and include short field trips in the immediate vicinity of Fort Mason Center. Instruction is offered in painting, drawing, sculpture, and simple print-making techniques, with exposure to a variety of materials, and a changing exhibit of student art work is always on display. For class schedules and information call 771-2092.

Children will be able to explore the world through the camera's eye in classes taught through the Children's Animation Workshop. This summer the Workshop is offering a special fare for children 7—16; starting July 6 thru Aug. 25, children's classes will meet Mon., Tues. and Wed. from 11am-2pm. Classes are on a drop-in basis costing only $5 per session and students will be able to work on their film projects at their own pace. Kids, using their own graphics and sound, will create individual film pieces which will be showcased at the Annual Young Filmmakers Festival. Call 921-4470.

The San Francisco Folk Music Club, together with the San Francisco Folk Music Center, is pleased to present the 6th Annual Spring Folk Music Festival—"A Gift to San Francisco." This FREE event will be held Sat. and Sun., June 12 & 13 beginning at 11am and is a very much do-it-yourself event. Held in Bldg. C, continuous workshops will be offered for various instruments from guitar styles to harps and unusual instruments as well as various singing and song styles. English Country and Irish Dancing will be featured for all to participate in as well as a continuous concert from noon until closing which will allow those who wish to sit and listen a chance to hear fine musicians playing all styles of folk music. For more information call 661-2217.

For the whole family, Fort Mason Center is offering an exciting array of interesting and fun activities throughout the entire summer. Special details may be obtained by calling the Fort Mason Center information line at 441-5705.
